

My review on Foderma's serum for Eczema

As a child, I always suffered from very dry and sensitive skin. In my teens, I experienced that my skin became even drier and sensitive; although I used to take great care of my skin, I noticed a patch of eczema on my right cheek and it bothered me to a great extent. After a visit to the dermatologist, it was established that the dry, itchy rough skin on my face was eczema and thus began my quest for the right cream which could permanently cure the problem. Since I have dry skin, chemical laden creams made me break out in the rest of my face and caused, even more, irritation.

One day while looking for eczema cure on the internet I came across Foderma eczema treatment. Since I had tried everything else in the book, I did not have anything else to lose, so I got hold of this miraculous serum. The texture of the cream is really lightweight, and I believe even those with oily skin can use it. This serum initially reduced the dryness to a great extent and I could feel a difference in the first week of use. It has natural oil blends and fruit extracts, which make it a very natural, healthy and chemical free cure for all those who are suffering from eczema.

In this foderma review, I would like to mention that the healing process will greatly depend on the intensity of eczema, the area of its growth and more than anything else the dedication with which you use this product. Do not expect the serum to do wonders to the skin if you apply it sporadically. Instead, you have to use it religiously applying it all over the affected area, and you will definitely notice a difference with each passing day. With frequent use of the Foderma serum, my eczema has come down to a point when it looks almost negligible and I am glad that I gave this product a go.

Over time I have realized that my skin feels a lot balanced, it is not as dry as it used to be. Earlier my skin felt parched by now it has a subtle glow to it, which I am elated about. The best thing which I love about the Foderma Eczema treatment is the fact that it feels really light on the skin and glides on smoothly without any greasy feel. I used it as an overnight treatment and in the morning I woke up to fresh, glowing eczema free skin. This has greatly helped in improving my self-confidence; I can walk in public without feeling conscious about the inflammation and redness on my skin.

If you are someone who is suffering from any kind of eczema, rosacea or psoriasis I would highly recommend this product. It will totally change the way your skin looks and reinstates your self-esteem, making you feel beautiful from within. This is definitely a product worth the investment and it receives double thumbs up from my side, for being the miraculous treatment that it is.
